

Introduction

This booklet explains how our relationships and behaviour policy works.

We pride ourselves on having high expectations of pupils and ourselves.

Pupils who feel safe, happy and valued are far more likely to behave well, feel calm and in control of their emotions.

That's why we have a 'relationships & behaviour' policy—positive connections between pupils and adults go a long way!

Read more about:

- Praise and connection
- Meaningful consequences
- Home-school communication

Our school rules

We have high expectations for all our pupils and our 'three b's' are referred to in all aspects of school life. It's what we do at Lantern Lane.

Our CARE values

Our values are important - we teach children how to show these every day.

High expectations

Our school community is proud of how well we line up, walk around school and behave in and outside the classroom.

Relationships & Behaviour Policy

A guide for parents & carers

Connection

Establishing positive relationships with pupils is really important for us at Lantern Lane. Greeting children with a smile goes a long way! .

Your children are very special to us and we pride ourselves on getting to know them well.

Praise

We all know that sometimes, a quiet word of personal praise can mean a lot, but we love to celebrate pupils' successes through:

- House points. All children are in one of 4 houses.
- CARE wall. A child from each class is chosen to put a 'brick' on our wall for following our rules/displaying values.
- CARE assembly. A weekly assembly with parents/carers invited to reward children displaying our values.

Meaningful consequences

When things go wrong, we manage it calmly and consistently. Most of the time, a gentle reminder is all that's needed.

When that is not the case, or when an incident is more serious, we use logical, appropriate consequence for the child's actions. For example, if the situation has resulted in learning time being lost, the teacher may decide work should be completed in break.

We talk about it when things go wrong, encouraging reflection on what to do next time and how to make things right.

Bullying & discrimination

We do not accept any form of bullying (online/offline) or discrimination.

Our curriculum teaches children to respect each other & celebrates diversity through a planned curriculum.

How you can help

- Try to make sure your child has a good night time and morning routine.
- Ensure your child wears full school uniform and brings any equipment they need.
- Make sure your child attends school and is on time, unless exceptional circumstances.
- Talk to us if you're worried about your child's behaviour at home or school.
- Have conversations with your child about our school rules and what to do if they are worried or upset.
- Talk to us if you have any concerns.